Special Correspondence of THE EVENING STAR.

WASHINGTON GROVE CAMP. MONTGOMERY Co., MD., August 17, 1882. Yesterday opened murky and sticky. No one just covered everything. Those who were obliged to go to the city had no escort to the depot, and picked their way along as best they could, speculating as to how much dust a man could swallow and live. Whether this problem has been settled or not is at this writing not known, as a kind Providence sent a storm in the afterneon, which rode fast, and, to the utter astonishment of every authorities and the offenses of some of the county young men be taken notice of, if fined at the same rate by this justice, the wheat crop of this county would not pay the fines. Last night one of them sat at the rear end of the Tabernacle and deliberately smoked cigarettes during the service. The day was a good one for the photographers, who frequently "took" groups. The children were busy last evening trying to decipher which was which. Yesterday being the "off day," everything was quiet, and but few visitors, either from the city or the country, arrived. The Rev. Dr. E. D. Owen left camp Monday evening to officiate at the | thirty days. funeral of one of his parishioners. THE RELIGIOUS SERVICES of the day were well attended by those camping on the grounds. The quarterly meeting and love feast of this circuit was held at 9 a.m. Rev. Jos. singing, praying and the relating of experiences. At 10:30 the Rev. B. Peyton Brown preached from John, chapter iii., verse 7: "Ye must be born again." He described clearly the necessity of a new birth, and of what that birth consisted. The Hor Spring Diamond Jewelry in gold. Prigg's. sermon was one of the best that has been preached since the camp commenced. A collection was taken up for this circuit. At 2 p.m. the children's meeting was held in the tabernacle, and was conducted by Mr. France. The Rev. Mr. Shively, a missionary, just returned from Chill, addressed the children. Mr. Shively is a Washingtonian. Some years ago he gave up his situation in the Government Printing Office to go to Calli and run a printing press that the churches in Washington had sent there. After working at it for a time he went into the missionary work, and is now home to prepare himself more fully for the ministry by taking a collegiate course. At the same hour Dr. Boole led a ladies' meeting in the tent on 6th avenue. The attendance was small. The subject discussed was the higher Christian life. The meeting at 3:30 was also conducted by Dr. Boole. He spoke on the subject of Growth in Grace, and for over an hour illustrating his talk by incidents in every day life.

> Close of the Wesley Grove Camp. The camp meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church South closed at Wesley Grove to-day after a general experience meeting. The services yesterday, with preaching by Revs. J. W. Duffy and Presley B. Smith, resulted in a number of conversions. Rev. Mr. Melvin, of the Methodist Protestant Church, Woodberry, Revs. J. W. A Well-Planned and Delightful Excursion.

WASHINGTON, D.C., August 17th, 1882. On behalf of the half dozen ladles comprising our party, permit me in this public manner to return our hearty thanks to Messrs. Helphenstine & Free for their enjoyable excursion to Luray Cave yesterday. Every detail was carried out to the letter, and never perhaps was an excursion party so thoroughly satisfied and charmed by what they saw, and certainly no excursion was ever so free from objectionable features as this one. In short, it was simply perfection personified, and too much praise cannot be accorded to the gentlemanly managers in their efforts to please. I will say nothing of the cave-it must be seen to be appreclated. "A LADY WHO WAS PRESENT."

They are to open six nights a week for twenty weeks, and to receive $500 a night from Harry I. THE BITER BITTEN.-James West and Mary Childs, both colored, were before Judge Bundy today charged with affray. James was also charged with assaulting Mary. Policeman Lombardy stated that he went this morning to arrest West on a warrant sworn out by the woman last Monday, and found them fighting in the street. Mary testified that last Monday he threw a handful of salt down her back, and struck her on the nos with a broomstick; that this morning he threw another handful of salt down her back and bit her on the cheek because she got a warrant for him. She showed the court the side of her face, and there was a piece of her cheek missing. The old man testified that she had been burning his chips all Conquered by Whisky.—Blanch P. N. Y. Herald, to-day. Mr. Carpenter yesterday reached the end of his long, wandering harangue, which is not likely either to help the defense materially or hurt the prosecution, and the second of the eight pleas in The most significant feature of the latter's speech was the stress with which he advanced the proposition that none of the conspirators can be convicted unless all are. The significance of this con- marked by the same evasion of the main question, tention lies in the fact that the evidence produced by the prosecution shows Brady to be the most | which have marked all the pleas for the very "inguilty of the plunderers, and Brady is Chandler's | nocent" rascals now on trial. client. Hence the purpose is to connect Brady's fortunes with those of the minor offenders, whose chances of acquittal are better than his, so that Brady may escape if any of the rest do, or all the others may be convicted if he is. The success of this plea would also work to the advantage of ex-Senator Dorsey in the same way and for like reasons. But unfortunately for the greater culprits the remarks made by Judge Wylie during the argument yesterday indicate that the court is not yet prepared to accept the views so confidently advanced by Brady's lawyer.

Mr. Chandler has the merit of liveliness, which shines the more brilliantly against the background of poor Carpenter's hopeless duliness, but his address was and the same prominence given to technicalities

> Another Blunder of the Star Routers. Phila. Press, to-day. Mr. Carpenter, of star route counsel, who has just wound up a three days' talking match against time, is not wise in his generation. Among other things, it remains for him to learn that all jurors are not fools. He came in at the finish with a mal adroit stroke which must have incensed every self-respecting man on the jury. Mr. Carpenter accused Mr. Ker of asserting in his argument that some of the jurors had been corrupted. Mr. Ker is a long remove from a stupid lawyer; in fact he is better than the average before a jury. If he had done what Mr. Carpenter charged him with doing, he would have deserved and received a rebuke from the court. But Mr. Carpenter was not satisfied with telling the jury what the jury knew to be untrue. He tried the same tactics on the court. This was intended to be shrewd. It was merely dull. The government has not kept three Washington newspapers busy assailing the court, its officers and the witnesses—desperately striving to influence the jury—and the defense has smr. Carpenter has given the prosecution a chance to bring all this out with force and effect.

Why They Did It, From the Philadelphia Press. At last we have it. The wicked, wicked newspapers are responsible for Dorsey, Brady & Co.'s total depravity. A ribald and licentious press was robbing the government steadily. Beholding this, the star routers went in to gather up the government's loose change in the hope of recalling the newspapers to a virtuous life. Why didn't they RICH COAL STRIKE IN OHIO .- A special from Post Boy, Ohio, reports the covery of a rich vein of the renowned Briar Hill or Massillon coal half a mile from that town. Farmers are already putting up the price of lands adjoining, and the discovery is causing some excitement. A stock company is already formed to work the coal.

$100,000 A YEAR.

Speaking of the want of courtesy in some churches, an American gentleman, several years ago, related how he went into an English church and cast about for a desirable seat. Almost instantly a dozen gentlemen rose, opened their pew doors, and invited him so earnestly to enter that he felt as if he had fallen in with a mob of hackmen at an American railway station. After much embarrassment he accepted a seat. Lingering about the church after service, he remarked to the sexton: "Your people seem very kind and very anxious to rive strangers a seat." "Yes, sir, yes, sir," was the nervous reply; "a few months ago one of our pewholders had left to him an income of £20,000 a year. You see, sir, several years before he was very polite to a stranger, -an old gentleman,—and gave him a nice seat and all the hymn-books prayer books, and the like of that. From that day to this every one of our members has been polite to the stranger within our gates."

"Did you learn who the eccentric old gentleman was?" inquired the American visitor. "No; his name was never heard here. We know him, and all the world know him, simply as the discoverer of
